State's Park Plans Remain A Mystery

Daly City's planning commission will study revised plans for a riding academy northeast of the coastside highway-Skyline boulevard intersection at their regular meeting at 8 o'clock Monday night.

Property in this area last week was sought by the state division of parks and beaches, at least a letter from the state highway commission indicated.

At this time the council and the planning commission were advised to approve no new enterprises or improvements west of the Skyline, because of the new freeway which should get under way this summer.

However, William J. Zappettini, who seeks to establish the riding academy on his property, adjacent to the Silver Saddle, visited Sacramento this week and said the state park officials knew nothing of the move to obtain the land for park purposes.

Sanford Vickers, secretary of the local planning commission, said no final decision will be given on Zappettini's revised plans until the state definitely informs the commission to go ahead.

Two other developments on the coastal area near Daly City have been stymied in past months by the state's highway and park plans.

Murray Norton seeks to subdivide the area for homes and businesses, while Col. H. Bridgeman has made tentative plans for construction of a motel.

Other business to be taken up by the commission Monday in-

THE TOWN RECORD

By MONTE DAYTON

In case you're wondering on the whereabouts of WINIFRED GRANT FLYNN, Jeff high grad of '45 who went promptly into the professional dancing field, here it is:

She's been dancing in the "for-pay" class now five years, just recently finished a 2½ year tour of the U. S. After refreshing her studies in ballet in New York, she plans to leave for Kansas City, Mo., for a 14-weeks engagement with the ballet in a summer stock outfit called the Starlight Theatre.

Winifred is the daughter of MRS. EDWARD GRANT, 119 West West Moltke street.

At 25 the young ballet star is a widow. Her husband was killed at Pyongyong, Korea, in November, 1950.

She's only in the chorus section of the ballet now, but has her sights set on a New York musical comedy as her next step up in the entertainment world.

Jeff high basketball coach MIKE ORLICH, who won the local school their first varsity championship this year, says if his team repeats the feat next year, he'll run for mayor. Sounds like an unbeatable platform.

Perusing another publication last week, we came across the statement that that publication had fostered the city clean-up week here held recently. However, we were inclined to disagree on seeing the May 27, 1938, issue of the Daly City Record, which announced the holding of the second annual clean-up week.

Born Monday at Stanford hospital to RALPH LAWRENCE, Doelger public relations man, (with the indispensable aid of wife, ALICE) a son, the first child, weighing in at 7 pounds, 6 ounces.

ALVIN M. JOHNSON of Colma was one of the lucky winners in the Guardsmen Campership campership campaign. He nabbed the second best goody which was a $2000 all-electric kitchen. Johnson lives at the Treasure Island Trailer court, where only Monday a woman was fatally stabbed, which just goes to show, it never rains, but it pours.

PROTESTS MADE TO COUNCIL ON DRAIN CONDITION

Several resident of Valley street protested to the city council Monday night that "nothing had been done" about the conditions of the storm drains on Valley and Mission streets.

One homeowner said even as late as last week the area was partially flooded.

Another resident complained that the drains were too small and wouldn't catch the water at all, while one protestant said the "pipe was installed wrong in the first place."

Engineer Edwin Smith said he had no knowledge of the condition. The council instructed City Administrator Dan Andersen to look into the matter.

One lady told the group that the situation had existed there for years.

TRIPLE SESSIONS SEEN POSSIBLE IN KINDERGARTEN

Possibility of triple sessions in the local kindergartens appeared this week as pre-registration enrollment reached 506, more than 100 above the figure for this time last year.

Fred Schweickhardt, coordinator of curriculum for the Jefferson elementary district, said that enrollment may be in excess of 200 over last year.

At Garden Village school registration was 170, and estimates are that by the time school starts in the fall it may be as high as 200, as compared with 150 enrolled last year.

Registration at other schools showed: General Pershing, 56; Jefferson, 70; Woodrow Wilson, 78; Westlake, 132.

Last enrollment date will be about October 15, Schweickhardt stated.

LOCAL QUIZ TEAM STILL UNDEFEATED

Daly City's torrid teen-age quiz team won again last Saturday on the televised Del Courtney contest.

The local team has gone undefeated since the beginning of the contest. Last week they defeated an Oakland high aggregation, 130 to 65.

Leading scorer for the local "quiz-kids" was Roberta Taylor with 100. Duane Soares accumu-

Engleman Sentence Slated For June 9

Stanley K. Engleman, 24-year-old South San Francisco truck driver, will appear in Superior Court June 9 to be sentenced for the attempted bomb slaying of Philip Rancatore, 44, of 58 W. Cavour street.

Superior Judge Murray Draper set Engleman's sentence time this week after Engleman had entered a motion for probation.

Previously the youth had pleaded guilty to the attempted murder charge. His plot on April 22 to kill Rancatore with a bomb fashioned of 12 dynamite sticks failed when the intended victim spied the wires leading from the light switch in his vehicle to the dynamite.

Engleman has testified that he made the attempt because Rancatore allegedly made passes at his girl.

Investigators have questioned this motive, and are still conducting a probe into the operations of an aleged burglary in which Engleman and James Sharp, 19, of Westwood have admitted participating.

Big Things Are Planned For Town & Country Shopping Center

ARTIST'S CONCEPTION of the new pedestrian mall planned for the Westlake Shopping Center. Negotiations are underway now between the Doelger firm and J. C. Penney's and Woolworth Co., who tentatively plan to establish stores in the area.

Trustees Postpone Action On Flying Of Planes At School

The Jefferson high school district board of trustees postponed final action Monday night on the request of the model plane flyers to use the high school field for their sport.

Although the trustees took no formal action on the matter, it is believed they are opposed to use of the field by the flyers because of the noise of the activity.

It was suggested at the meeting that a spot for the model plane enthusiasts might be found on the new Skyline school site.

At Monday's meeting the board voted to accept the Gallic Bros. low bid of $12,050 for a new 73-passenger bus.

Also purchased were 100 new tablet-arm chairs at a cost of $1570.

These will be used in temporary classrooms designed to meet the increased enrollment next fall.

In other action, the board:

1. Hired Emile De Martini as a new janitor.

2. Appointed Carolyn Secord as a cashier and clerk for the office. Miss Secord will be graduated from the school in June and will assume her position July 1.

3. Appointed Mrs. Kathryn Holecek as library clerk, to replace Roberta Miller, who has entered her resignation. Mrs. Holecek will take over the position next month.

4. Purchased a new power lawn mower at a cost of $1075.

5. Granted authority for work to proceed on the remodelling of the auto shop and rooms 36 and 37. These rooms will be used in part as temporary classrooms.

STATE PURCHASES OVERPASS SITE HERE

San Francisco's public utilities commission this week accepted an offer of $415,000 from the state of California for six acres of property located at Junipero Serra boulevard and Knowles avenue here.

The property is owned by the San Francisco water department.

The state intends to build an overpass over Junipero Serra to Alemany boulevard near the county line.

Daly City's action in widening Knowles avenue, now in progress, was brought about as preparation for the time when the overpass will be constructed. Widening of the avenue will make it a main thoroughfare.

DR. PAOLI, BOCCI CLASH ON ZONING

A minor row on a re-zoning issue erupted in the city council Monday night and the matter was laid over for final decision until this coming Monday.

Dr. Theodore Paoli, whose clinic is located at 7080 Mission street, near W. Moltke street, appeared to protest the re-zoning of a plot of land near his office from R-2 (residential) to C-1 (light commercial).

Dr. Paoli said if the re-zoning, sought by Joseph L. Bocci, were allowed, it would allow establishment of a business that "might impair his normal, professional functions."

No Intentions

Bocci said that he had no intentions of putting in any kind of noisy enterprise on the property. Bocci explained that he had owned the property for some 17 years, while Paoli had only been there a short time.

In fact, Bocci claimed, the property is actually already zoned commercial. He said the area was designated commercial almost six

Total Of 12,500 Are Eligible To Cast Vote

A total of 12,500 registered voters of the North San Mateo County Sanitation district will be eligible to cast their ballots Tuesday in a special $600,000 bond election.

Purpose of the election is to secure funds for construction of a primary-type sewage treatment plant to process raw sewage now being dumped into the Thornton beach area. The plant will be located east of Lake Merced boulevard, at its juncture with Alemany extension.

The state has warned the district that it will not permit further dumping of raw sewage into the ocean. If the bond fails the state plans to proceed with installing sewage disposal facilities here, to be paid for by a special tax assessment of the district's homeowners.

James Kennedy, president of the district's board of directors, said he was confident the measure would be approved by the necessary two-thirds majority. "I'm positive the bond will pass if the people are cognizant of the facts," he added.

The district president estimated that about 1600 of the voters would turn out.

Kennedy said that statements to the effect that cost of the plant would be in excess of $600,000 were "erroneous."

"A qualified engineer investigated the matter thoroughly for more than two months," Kennedy pointed out. "The site he has chosen will mean the minimum of expense for construction."

Kennedy added that the $600,000 figure was the maximum, pointing out that the plant might be erected at a lower cost.

Other installations that will be made with the sum are: Outfall sewer, interceptor sewers and trunk line mains; and storm drainage necessary to protect the project.

Cost to the taxpayers has been estimated at 13 cents on $100 of assessed valuation. Property assessed at $2000 would be taxed $2.60 a year for the project. According to Kennedy, this cost will decrease as the community grows and assessed valuation increases.

At present the sanitation district's levy on taxpayers is eight cents per $100 valuation. This is chanelled for maintenance purposes, and will serve to finance maintenance of the sewage plant, Kennedy declared.

Polls will be open Tuesday from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. Voting will

TEEN-AGE CLUB OPENS TUESDAY AT LOCAL CENTER

The first meeting of the new Teen-age club will be held Tuesday, 7:30 p.m., at the war memorial center. Dances and other social and recreational activities will be held at these gatherings.

All high school students, including freshmen from the Daly City, Colma, Broadmoor and Westlake areas are invited to join this club.

Purpose of the first meeting will be to enroll new members and to submit names for the Teen-age club. There will be prizes of a years paid membership in the club for the three best names suggested.

The names will be judged by the temporary executive board and voted on by the members at the following meeting. After a short meeting at which a few more details will be given, dancing and refreshments will be on tap until 9:30 p.m.

Dues will be 25c per month and an initiation fee of 25c to cover cost of printing membership cards will also be levied.

Local Student Wins Award At Stanford

Robert Ernest Tranquada of 40 Lynnewood drive has been awarded a scholarship for graduate study at Stanford university, it was announced this week by President Wallace Sterling.

The local youth was awarded the Claude Clifford Ryder scholarship for the year 1953-54.

Tranquada was among 165 scholarship winners from 26 states and the district of Columbia.

The scholarships and fellowships are awarded on the basis of scholastic excellence and promise of success.

The grants cover tuition, and some also include an allowance for living expenses.

Mrs. Brown Named Citizen Of The Year

Northern San Mateo county's citizen of the year was honored Sunday evening at Colombo hall in Colma with more than 200 persons in attendance.

The award, a large bronze plaque, went to Mrs. Margaret Pauline Brown, a resident of this area for more than 60 years and active in numerous welfare and charitable organizations.

It was bestowed upon her by Dan Casentini, president of the Daly City-Colma Italian-American Citizens' club, sponsors of the banquet. The occasion marked the 19th anniversary of the club locally.

The function was attended by many Daly City civic officials, who delivered short addresses and lauded the citizens' club for their efforts.

The winner of the "citizen of the year" title came as a surprise to Mrs. Brown.

Only last week the Colma Red Cross reached its quota, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Brown.

Red Cross work was one of the many commendable projects taken up by Mrs. Brown in her more than six decades in this community.

Some of the activities Mrs. Brown engaged in during past years are: Established girls' sewing club; served as commissioner in first county board of social welfare; served on board of directors of county preventorium, now known as Children's health center; served on numerous election boards; made first American Red Cross flag to be used at the organization's meeting in the Colma area; handled correspondence for soldiers and families of soldiers during World War II; took active part in the Colma community Christmas tree party; sold war bonds; donated property, the sale of which paid for the new section of the Colma community center; devoted many years as a teacher in the Colma area; sponsored Boys clubs of Colma which later became known as the Pegasus club.

Two New Members Are Elected To The Broadmoor Property Owners Association

In a light voting held last week, members of the Broadmoor Property Owners' association returned three incumbents and added two new names to the list of the group's directors.

Returned to their posts for three years were: Leroy Kroeger, 44 votes; Vincent Cauchi, 42, and Grant Holman, 39.

Winning positions on the board for the first time were Mrs. Vi Murphy, 28, and Herbert Stettler, 27. They will serve a period of two years.

Members of the board whose terms will not expire until a later date are: James McKay, Jack Baker, Maryanne Read and Joe Belli.

Read and Belli are secretary and treasurer, respectively.

Holman was named to the presidency, after McKay said he declined to run again. Kroeger will serve as vice-president.

Unsuccessful candidates for board positions were: Amos Bechtold, 21; Jack Parker, 19; and Alice Mayville, 12.

George Alexander, a member of the board with two years of his term remaining, entered his resignation before nominations.

Only 48 members of the association turned out for the ballotting.

Following the election a resolution was introduced by McKay and other board members to control landscaping. The association seeks to set-up a system similar to that in Westlake, where the property owners may take action if a resident allows his place to become too unsightly. The resolution was tabled and will be considered at a later date.

A special meeting of the board was slated for this evening (Friday) at 8 p.m. at the president's home, 983 Foothill drive. At this time the directors will receive assignment of duties for the coming year.

Slayer Of Woman Given 5 Years-Life

Chester Floyd Lewis, 48, of 275 Station avenue here, was given five years to life in prison Monday in the Superior court of Judge Twain Michelsen in San Francisco.

He was convicted of slaying Mrs. Eugenia Hedgwood, 45, of 216 Harbor road, last November 28 in the kitchen of her Hunters Point home.

He said he did it "because I loved her."

Lewis and the woman were both estranged from their mates at the time of the slaying. Lewis told police that he "had been keeping company" with her since her sepation from her husband two months previously. He said she threatened to stop seeing him.

After the shooting her body was found there by her three children when they returned from an outing.

years ago, but that the city had lost the records.

He said his reason for re-applying for the zone change was that he "didn't want to stir up a commotion."

"Ring Of Concrete"

Dr. Paoli asserted that he'd be "in a ring of concrete" if a commercial structure were allowed there.

A total of eight written protests concurred with Dr. Paoli.

However, Bocci said they all appeared to be "stamped" protests, written by one person.

The planning commission's recommendation to the council was that the re-zoning be approved.

The council, in a split vote, moved to delay their decision until Monday night. Councilman Joe Verducci went on record as favoring immediate action on the matter.

Other Council Action

In other action, the council:

1. Awarded contract for supplying of a new fire engine to Seagrove Corp., who submitted low bid of $17,338.51.

2. Awarded contract for installation of firehouse dormitory at Santa Barbara and Parkview avenues to Commercial Construction company, whose bid of $9681 was lowest submitted.

3. Proceeded with abatement action against property at 96 Mission Circle, owned by L. V. Roberts. The council inspected the premises on May 11 and found the building to constitute a "public nuisance."

4. Set June 22, 8 p.m., as the date for public hearing on the classification of land in the Abbey Homestead area as light-industrial. The PG&E seeks to establish an electric sub-station on a 3 8/10 acre section there. The council split on this matter, with Edward Dennis and Verducci opposing the setting of the hearing.

5. Applied for $761.73 in state aid for preparing survey on proposed improvement surveys.

6. Advised the city administrator to investigate a request by the city employees' association. The employees recommended that any city worker receiving a salary of $416 a month or more be allowed to contribute to the retirement fund on an unristricted basis. At present the retirement fund remains the same after that salary figure is reached.

7. Awarded contract to Neville Motors for supplying light fire truck to city. They submitted low bid of $2620.34.

SLAYER HEARING SET FOR TUESDAY

Walter Sanders, 36-year-old confessed killer of a Colma housewife, will appear June 2 in Judge Thomas L. Bocci's Municipal court for preliminary hearing.

The slayer was arraigned on first-degree murder charges Wednesday in the Municipal court of Judge Fred M. Wykoff, substituting for Judge Bocci.

Sheriff Earl B. Whitmore declared he will ask the district attorney to fight for the death penalty for Sanders, who killed his former girl friend, Mrs. Roberta Blackman, 36, by stabbing her with an eight-inch knife. The tragic event occurred at the Treasure Island Trailer court in Colma.

Sanders, who has confessed to being a sexual psychopath and armed robber, inflicted the fatal wound late Monday because "I just wanted to teach her a lesson."

The killer said she had rejected his love.

City Council Adds Protest To County Flood Control Bill

Chances for the formation of a county-wide flood control district grew more minute this week as Daly City added its voice of disapproval to the plan.

In answer to a query by the county board of supervisors as to this city's stand on the matter, the council voted itself in unanimous opposition to the district.

To date only South San Francisco and Redwood City have backed the flood control as submitted for ratification by the county's 13 cities.

Under terms of the bill a municipality which contributed the majority of the cost of a flood project within a zone could withdraw upon protest.

However, the cities have objected because they would have to bear the majority of the cost of a project before it could withdraw.

Members of the local council said Monday night that the bill left cities wide open to unjust taxation.

Accordion and Fisarmonica selections were given by Mike Maffei and Michele Corino, respectively. Miss Alba Canale, soprano, with the accompaniment of Mrs. Barbara Rosso at the piano, sang three numbers.

Following presentation of the award, the Grand Ball was held until 12 midnight, to the music of "Corino."

President Casentini said the naming of a "citizen of the year" would probably become an annual function of his club.

Cast A "Yes" Vote On Tuesday

The North San Mateo county area has remained one of the last die-hards to hold out in the face of increasing sewage disposal needs.

On Tuesday of next week the voters of the North San Mateo County Sanitation district will have an opportunity to show themselves in favor of intelligent improvement, as opposed to stick-in-the-mud apathy, by putting over the bond issue for construction of a $600,000 primary type sewage treatment plant.

Construction of a plant of this type, to dispose of sewage now being spewed raw into the Thornton beach area, is a must, not just a whim of the district's board of directors.

The state board of health and water pollution control board have both warned this area to get busy in doing something about the extremely unhealthy situation.

Their mandate is that, if the district will not take the initiative and find their own means to properly dispose of sewage, the state will do it for us.

God forbid the passage of such an event.

No matter how foolishly the district's planners may have gone about financing the plant, chances are it would be a trivial sum compared to the manner in which the state would perform the function, knowing the affinity of the state for bureaucratic procedure.

But the district has made an intensive study of various plans and sites. They have had the aid of well-qualified engineers and the result is the proposed primary type treatment plant to be located off Alemany boulevard near the Westlake area.

Other sites were considered, but the consensus was that these other locations would increase the cost anywhere from $50,000 on up.

The proposed sewage plant will bring taxes up about 13 cents on $100 assessed valuation. This means the yearly tax cost on property evaluated at $2000 would be about $2.60.

In the face of these above facts, we recommend a resounding "yes" vote at the bond election Tuesday.

No Jokers Evident Yet

Under the new "county service area law," approved by Governor Warren just before he left for the coronation, the Broadmoor area may find many benefits, but we hope there isn't a joker in the legislation somewhere.

This law makes it possible for Californians who live outside cities to purchase any desired government services from the county.

Although Broadmoor has commendable fire and police protection, their neighborhood park and recreation program is soundly lacking.

The new law will enable the county to extend to the residents of Broadmoor any of the services desired.

According to the county supervisors association of California, basic county governmental services will be provided as at present and will not be changed by the new law.

The one drawback would seem to be the monotonous jacking-up of taxes again.

However, the supervisors association points out that the law will not mean automatic increased taxation.

They say only a few instances of tax burden re-shuffling will be noticed, and this by the consent of the residents of the affected areas.

One striking benefit of this new plan is that unincorporated areas will no longer be able to take a "free-ride" at the expense of taxpayers living in the cities.

The case of unincorporated areas vs. cities and/or counties has been decidedly messed up in past years.

We hope this new plan is carried out within the limits of its terms, and is not just construed as a new method for the county to gain ever-increasing power over municipalities and unincorporated areas.

Swindling, San Francisco Style

The city of San Francisco has just pulled off one of the lousiest swindles on the state's taxpayers that we have observed in years.

The city's public utilities commission this week "magnanimously" accepted $415,000 from the state division of highways for a seven-acre sand pile at Junipero Serra boulevard and Knowles avenue.

The land, which extends 1200 feet along the east side of the boulevard, is owned by the SF water department.

Getting wind that the state wanted the land for construction of an overpass crossing Junipero Serra, the big city's machinery went into action.

In a very smooth move, after months of bickering over a sale price, San Francisco called for bids for construction of commercial establishments on the land.

This was designed to increase the value of the land in an astronomical manner, though the city had no intentions of building there, knowing all the time they'd make the sale to the state.

So the state, aware that the high-jackers would go even higher if the construction ever got as far as the planning stage, kicked through with nearly a half-million bucks that taxpayers of the entire state have dug deep for.

It was a keen maneuver, if you call grand larceny a maneuver.

Congressman Arthur Younger Reports On Activities In Washnington, D.C.

One of the most discriminatory laws ever passed by Congress was the one drafting doctors, dentists, and other medical men. This is one of the few times that we have had to discriminate against one group of our citizens as against another, but apparently there was no way to avoid this because the army absolutely had to have a certain number of doctors and dentists. The Selective Service law was not well drawn in this respect, and in addition to the discriminatory features, it placed many hardships upon the doctors because of the extended age in which they could be drafted and because of the methods by which they could be re-inducted into service after having given many months of service to their country. Fortunately, the Congress has now passed an amendment which has cleared up most of these hardship cases, and a great many doctors will be eligible for discharge during the next 90 days. In addition to clearing up the inequalities, the so-called Doctor Draft Law was extended from July 1, 1953 to July 1, 1955. The act was approved in the House by a voice vote, and I supported the bill.

The final passage in the House of the Submerged Lands Bill presented a rather clever legislative maneuver. When the House first passed this bill, it was in three sections. Section 1 dealt with definitions; Section 2 set forth the seaward boundaries of the coastal states and gave them title; and Section 3 dealt with the ownership and the leasing of the outer Continental Shelf extending beyond the historic seaward boundaries of the states. The Senate eliminated Title 3 and passed sections 1 and 2 with slight changes. Normally the bill would have gone to conference, but the House majority leaders chose to submit the question back to the House rather than set off another debate in the Senate over the conference report. They did so in two bills. First, they submitted Title 3 as a separate amendment to a bill which had not yet been enacted, and the opponents of the measure attacked the legislative procedure, but it was upheld by the Parliamentarian. Thus Title 3 was passed as a new bill by a vote of 309 to 91. Then the Senate version was passed by the House 278 to 116 and sent to the White House for signature.

I had the pleasure on Friday, May 22nd, of being at the White House and witnessing the signature of this bill, which was, of course, a thrilling occasion.

Now the Senate will have to treat Title 3 in the new bill that is before them, and Senator Morse and his colleagues will have a difficult time in opposing it because it does give federal control to the Continental Shelf and spells out how the prospecting and leasing should take place. The group that opposed the bill in the Senate are for Federal control, and this Title 3 is Federal control, so they will have grave difficulty in supporting another extended debate.

The appropriations for the various departments continue to roll out on the House production line. The Treasury Department and Post Office bills were passed wherein the budget estimate for the Treasury Department was $655,000,000 and the amount appropriated $612,000,000, which was also $44,000,000 less than the Department received in the 1953 appropriations. The Post Office Department requested $2,900,000,000, and the new appropriation was $2,800,000,000. I supported the committee recommendations in both cases.

The Department of Agriculture appropriation was the first one reported to the House in which the committee had recommended more than was requested by the Department. About the only item of controversy was on the agricultural conservation program. Here the appropriation for 1953 was $251,747,866. The Truman budget had estimated $252,436,000 for fiscal 1954. The Department of Agriculture had asked that the amount be decreased to $140,000,000, but the committee had recommended $195,000,000. An amendment was submitted when the bill was under consideration by the committee of the whole House, reducing the amount to $140,000,000. This amendment carried by a slight margin of 139 to 137 in a teller vote. Also the amount available to any one participant was reduced from $2,500 to $1,000 by an amendment. When the committee of the whole House reported to the House, the amendments were voted on by roll call and the reduction to $140,000,000 was defeated 205 to 196. The other amendment was aproved. The bill was then passed 384 to 12. I supported the amendments and the bill.

A great deal has been written about the budget during the last two weeks since the announcement of the President and the Secretary of the Treasury that the budget could not be balanced this year. It develops that the expenditures and revenue for this year cannot be balanced due to the fact that we have a lag in the expenditures because when the new administration came in, there were appropriations in excess of $81,000,000,000, most of which had been contracted for but not paid for, and which must be paid for during the next few years. Thus, while the current appropriations and revenues are not only balanced but will show a surplus of some 3 billion dollars, nevertheless, when you consider the lag in the expenditures that must be absorbed by the current revenues, there will be a deficit, despite the fact that the President has recommended reductions from the Truman budget amounting to over 8½ billion dollars.

Of course, these expenditures will be reduced somewhat in case there is a truce in Korea, but the reduction will not be what most people might contemplate due to the fact that we will have to maintain the armed forces in numerical strength of 3 million men and we will have to maintain the forces in Korea until the peace is signed. The Korean war has never been budgeted. If I may indulge in a little prophecy, you should not be surprised if a truce is reached in Korea within the next 30 to 60 days, but it may not be a happy truce.

This inherited situation is the reason why the President has asked for a continuance of the present tax structure until January 1, 1954. I believe the Excess Profits Tax to be the most inequitable tax we have, and I am on record against its extension. It is paid by only about 17% of the corporations, most of them being new corporations like the electronics companies in San Carlos. There are many others I could mention. I am still hopeful that the hearings will develop so many hardship cases of small businesses to convince the administration that this most inequitable tax should not be continued.

It is next to impossible to get any funds for new projects or additions to old projects from the Appropriations this year. It develops that there are over 930 authorized projects and additions to projects which have previously been authorized by Congress and approved by the Corps of Engineers and on which no funds have been appropriated for the commencement of work. The total amount involved in these authorizations is over 9 billion dollars. Thus, you can readily see that when it comes to choosing between these projects, one would have to be a Solomon to say which is more important. That is the reason why the administration has put down the iron-clad rule that no new starts shall be made during the next fiscal year.

Days Of Throwing Sewage On Heads Is Over; Reader Advocates Bond Passage

Dear Editor:

Filth, disease, and stench were no problem in the middle ages. They had these things in abundance, but were blissfully ignorant of simple cause and effect.

Garbage and sewage were disposed of by the simple method of tossing it out the nearest window, and woe to whoever happened to be passing underneath at the time. The result was entirely as might be expected. Entire populations were sometimes wiped out by plagues, and your nose could detect a city before your eyes could, if you hapened to be approaching from the windward.

In this enlightened twentieth century we know that decaying matter is not conducive to health and happiness. We abhor filth and stench. We do not dump our refuse on our neighbor's head. We spend hundreds of dollars for modern plumbing fixtures. Collectively we spend thousands more for complex sewage system to gather this waste and speed it on it's way to —WHERE?

Just west and slightly north of Daly City is the end of a large brick tunnel—originally designed to carry storm water. Somehow, during the past fifty years, our sewer system has become connected to this tunnel and we find ourselves dumping what is politely termed "unactivated sludge" onto San Francisco's beach.

Our conscience (prodded by the State Board of Health) tells us this is not quite cricket. Pouring our "unactivated sludge" on our neighbors head is only slightly less neighborly than pouring it at his feet. Besides, it isn't too sensible to create this unhappy pollution right at the point where prevailing winds will cause our air to be fouled; and from where, in summer, this same wind will carry to our doorsteps the ever-increasing fly menace which finds ideal breeding conditions in such places.

There are perhaps four possible solutions. San Francisco might simply plug the end of the tube—with disastrous results to us. We could individually tear up our lawns and install septic tanks at a cost of perhaps three to four hundred dollars apiece. We could wait and "let the state do something," which would mean their construction of an elaborate sewage disposal system at our expense—to be paid for by an assessment on our properties.

Or we can have built a simple "primary stage sewage treatment plant" at a cost of some $2.50 per year for the average home, comparatively more for those with higher valuation.

Our elected officials do not have the power to raise and spend this money. We must go to the polls and give them permission to take these necessary steps. Can we say no?

Councilman Lauds Citizen Of The Year For Fine Work Accomplished In This Area

Dear Sirs:

During the last 50 years the Daly City and Colma areas have historically had many pioneers who unselfishly gave of their time and money so that the other fellow could enjoy life in a better way. Usually these old timers at the most received a few kind words from appreciative neighbors for these deeds of good will.

We are certainly fortunate to have in our midst a kind lady who has consistently worked for 50 years in the interests of our community and national welfare.

The Italian-American Citizens club of Daly City and Colma is to be highly complimented for awarding Margaret Pauline Brown the citizen of the year award at its anniversary banquet Sunday.

It does one's heart good to see Mrs. Brown receive a beautiful plaque in presence of 200 of her friends and so ably presented by Dan Casentini, president of the club.

Having known Mrs. Brown all my life and being familiar with some of the fine work accomplished by her over the many years for the citizens of Daly City and Colma, I take this opportunity to say, "God bless Margaret Pauline Brown that she might be with us all for many years to come."

Sincerely,
Edward J. Dennis,
Councilman

TEN YEARS AGO IN THE RECORD

Thursday, May 27 — Another contest to see who could collect the most tin at each school in the Jefferson elementary school district has just been concluded.

Winners, who were rewarded with a ride in an "honest to goodness" U. S. Army jeep yesterday included Estelle Parodi and Joseph Arrighi, Jefferson; Andrew Barone and Evelyn Blandini, Crocker; Eloise Harrison and James Dorman, Woodrow.

To encourage the establishment of Victory gardens in Daly City and the growing of fresh vegetables to help meet the food shortage, a resolution adopting a reduced water rate to residents of the community for water used in their gardening was unanimously adopted at Monday night's council meeting.

The resolution, No. 832, applies only during the season 1943 for water used within the city for growing vegetables for home consumption.

Thursday the Jefferson high executive office was honored with a new guest, but not for long. In the window of the office the Naturalist Society established an aquarium.

Last week the guest was a gopher found by one of the students. He was quite an attraction that day. The next day the poor little gopher was found practically dead, so John Harville put him out of his misery.

Victory garden owners are told to watch out for gophers—even if they needn't worry about this one.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO IN THE RECORD

Friady, May 27 — The health officer of Daly City reports that the second annual spring cleaning week, held from May 9 to 14, proved to be a great success and showed how really efficient community action can be in community sanitation.

The health department hopes that all the residents will cooperate and help in any future health or sanitation programs.

Without doubt one of the most auspicious occasions in Daly City for many months was the formal opening of the New Jefferson union high gymnasium and swimming pool.

Both the gym and the swimming pool are at the disposal of the adults of the community in the evening hours.

A surprise birthday party was given for Henry Sundermann Jr. of Brunswick street by his wife Sunday evening.

Dainty refreshments were served later in the evening to the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. Vincent McQuire, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hurlbut, and daughter, Dorthean, Mr. and Mrs. W. Hurlbut and son, Ray, Mr. and Mrs. Anton Brukeim, Mrs. M. Hurlbut and Mrs. Minnie Barner.

TWENTY FIVE YEARS AGO IN THE RECORD

Friday, May 25—The end of one hundred and four years on this earth came on Sunday when Mrs. Marina Lagomarsino passed away at her home in Colma.

She was the wife of the late Tomaso Lagomarsino, and mother of Joseph and Mrs. Rose Lagomarsino, and August Lagomarsino of Stockton, Mrs. Victoria Arata and Stephen Lagomarsino of Italy, and the late Assunta Arata and Louisa Lagomarsino.

Mrs. Larry Shaw of Shakespeare street entertained the Joker club members and a few other guests at Monte Vista on Wednesday of last week. The guests motored down in the morning.

The following enjoyed the outing: Mr. and Mrs. Tony Parmisano and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Doyle and son Thomas, Mrs. Al Parmisano and daughter, Mrs. M. Rancatore, Mrs. J. Reardon and daughter, Mrs. Sophie Wolfe, Mrs. John Harte, Mrs. Rose Parmisano, Mrs. Pete Pavlos, Mrs. S. Pfeifer, Mrs. David Johnstone, Mrs. Jack Dennis and Mrs. Clarence Saunders.

And the loftiness of man shall be bowed down, and the haughtiness of men shall be made low; and the Lord alone shall be exalted in that day. —(Isaiah III, 17.)

When the present moment and hour may be the last for any one of us, and this day any individual's Day of Judgment, why should we exalt ourselves or anyone else of this earth? Only the truly humble, forgiven of the Lord and living in Him, can count themselves secure, today or tomorrow.

MY MAD WORLD

by Leonore Brewer

Well, I finally did it. I followed the crowds going into the three-dimensional movies, and I can tell you that if they are Hollywood's answer to the television threat, may Heaven help Hollywood. They are going to need it.

Undoubtedly as a technical process, it is marvelous beyond belief, but the end result, which is what we are interested in, leaves more than a little to be desired.

Fort Ti introduced me to the new gimmick, and its been a long time since I have seen anything much worse. Maybe you recall reading in Life several months ago of the Hollywood producer who had never turned out a good picture, but who had never lost money. Well, he hasn't broken his record.

With the screen aflame with burning arrows and cannon fire, Fort Ti gave its producer ample opportunity to use the new process which permits the well-known trick shots. This resulted in considerable squealing on the part of the teeners. In the case of Fort Ti, which wasn't worth the effort required to see it, these sound effects made little difference. But in viewing a better film, this illusion would have mast unhappy results.

For example, Henry V, with men in armor swinging battle axes in your face, or Hamlet, with the sword's point going through your heart in the last scene. The barnyard noises which seem to be inevitable accompanient to some of the trick photography would kill the picture.

I am well aware that there is a large segment of the populace who wouldn't turn on their television sets to see Hamlet. The above mentioned producer's success proves that. But there just aren't enough of them to prevent theaters from closing, and it is their wild-eyed search for something to please this "lost" audience, that Hollywood has come up with its new gimmick.

By stretching the wings of one's imagination just a trifle, it is possible to see a wonderful future for this new technique, but it will have to be used with good plots, fine camera work and actors, not in place of them.

HOW CAN I?

By Anne Ashley

Q. How can I clean white stucco?

A. Use a fiber brush and a solution of soap and water; rinse thoroughly with cold water. If this does not remove the dirt, try a mixture of one part of sulphuric acid to seven parts of water for the scrubbing compound. Rinse with cold water.

Q. How can I get relief from burns and scalds?

A. Common baking soda, either wet or dry, bound on a burn or scald immediately, will usually give instant relief. This is caused by excluding the air from the wound.

Q. How can I clean soiled photographs?

A. Wash them off with a piece of white cotton dipped in cold water. Be sure not to use colored cotton, and never use soap or ammonia, just cold water.

Q. How can I improve the smoothness of clothing that has been starched?

A. Smoothness and glossiness can be more easily secured, when ironing starched pieces, by stirring the starch three or four times while boiling with a paraffin candle.

Q. How can I avoid having tough rolls?

A. Do not brush the rolls with water after they are taken from the oven, as this makes the crust tough. Brush them with water or butter before putting into the oven.

Q. How can I easily insert screws into hard wood?

A. Rub the threaded part of the screw over a piece of soap before inserting it into hard wood, and see if its doesn't facilitate the work.

Q. How much whitewash is required to cover a medium-sized cellar?

A. It is well to remember that a gallon of whitewash will cover about 225 square feet of wood, 180 square feet of brick, and about 270 square feet of plaster.

Q. How can I improve the appearance of a gilt picture frame?

A. After washing the gilt frame, paint it with the white of an egg, using a soft camel's hair brush, and applying the coat evenly and smoothly.

Q. How can I kill moths that have infested a clothes closet?

A. Saturate a cloth with formaldehyde and hang it in the closet. Close the door tightly and leave for twelve hours. The fumes will kill the moths and their eggs and will leave no odor.

Former Daly City Librarian Shown In Attractive Garden

THE THEORY of Mrs. Jean O'Rourke, "plant them and wait," pays off, as graphically shown here. Mrs. O'Rourke, former head librarian here for 25 years, lives at 263 Evergreen avenue. Mrs. O'Rourke claims that she has very little technical knowledge of gardening, but abundant floral display in her back yard almost seems to refute this statement.

Former Librarian Is Successful Gardner

You don't have to be an advanced horticulturist to come up with an attractive garden.

Anyone who doesn't believe it should see the back yard of Mrs. Jean O'Rourke, 263 Evergreen street. Mrs. O'Rourke, who was head librarian here from 1922 to 1947, has been a successful gardener at her Evergreen street home for 45 years now.

Using the "just plant them and wait" method, Mrs. O'Rourke's garden is festooned with some 20 varieties of plants, among them a Japanese flowering cherry and French lilac.

She has the most success with roses, and by planting several varieties in her back yard plot, has produced a colorful floral array.

During the 25 years that she was librarian, her dask was adorned with flowers daily from her garden.

Mrs. O'Rourke does all her own garden work, with the exception of mowing the lawn.

Recently the efforts of the former librarian were enjoyed by the Daly City Garden club, who selected Mrs. O'Rourke's garden as one of several visited in a tour.

Mrs. O'Rourke makes the most of her garden by attending a flower arrangements class at Jefferson high. She is employed on a part-time basis as custodian of Colma's library in the day.

She only spends a few hours a week "green-thumbing" it. But when she started her garden back in 1908 it was a full time job.

Next door to her home was a pound where stray horses and cows were kept until their owners could be found.

The wandering animals were the biggest hazard to gardens in those days. A few minutes frolicking in a patch of flowers could undo weeks of work.

Now that such dangers have vanished, Mrs. O'Rourke finds it possible to maintain an attractive garden with just enough effort to make it pleasure rather than work.

LIGHT OF DRIVING SKILL

Accident records still fail to demonstrate with finality that men are better drivers than women, or vice versa, according to the National Automobile Club. They do show, however, that the two have different types of accidents; the women more minor mishaps, proportionately, and the men more serious ones.

Garden Films To Be Shown At Meeting Of Daly City Club

The new films entitled, "How to Grow Beautiful Fuchsias and Begonias," and "How to Grow Azaleas and Camellias," will be shown at the meeting of the Daly City Garden Club on June 2.

The films are 16 millimeter movies with a sound track for background music and professional narration. Running time is about twenty minutes for each film.

The first movie starts with selection of the proper type of fuchsias for your specific scheme and proceeds with proper care, repotting, feeding and spring and summer spraying to control insect and fungus pests.

The second part of this film shows step-by-step scenes on growing begonias, starting tubers, through rooting, transplanting and maturity. These scenes are vividly produced to give much helpful information to the begonia enthusiasts.

The film concerning azaleas and camellias, technically directed by John Paul Edwards, director of the Northern California Camellia society, will show that the fascinating hobby of growing azaleas and camellias is easy and generously rewarding. In its 20 minutes running time, the movie tells and shows basic gardening facts to help lead the way to azalea and camellia success.

The movie begins by giving background information on azaleas and camillias, including various species, sizes, colors, and their advantages. How to select the proper garden spot for planting, how to properly dig and fertilize the hole, and all details of the actual planting are demonstrated.

Closeups in these films are used to good advantage in showing not only beautiful blooms but also the damage caused by common insect pests to these plants.

This is an open meeting, and the Daly City Garden club has extended an invitation to everyone interested in beautiful flowers. The meeting is to be held at 101 Parkview avenue, at 8 p.m.

The film will be furnished through the courtesy of the California Spray-Chemical Corporation of Richmond, Calif.

The amateur division committee hopes that all county flower lovers participate and help make this year's fiesta the most beautiful flower fiesta in the country.

Mrs. J. E. Younger, chairman of the amateur outdoor garden section, announces that the entries in this section are fast being filled. However, there are still a few entries open, and if any Garden club in the county has not received information concerning this section, and wishes to participate this year they should telephone FIreside 5-2322, and an entry blank and schedule will be mailed.

Marigolds Easy To Grow; Excellent For Home Gardens

Marigolds are as common as weeds and about as easy to grow. There is an increasing affection for these John Bunyan characters of the flower kingdom despite their faults. Given any attention at all, a planting of giant marigolds puts the mark of distinction upon the most modest of home gardens. For this reason the California Bedding Plant Advisory Board heartily recommends them to home gardeners. The possibilities for home beautification with plantings of this grand showy annual are well worth investigating.

Present day giant marigolds are a super race of super giants that are subject to many superlatives. The flowers are huge globs of orange and yellow borne on long stems of amazing strength that make them ideal for cut flowers. Transplants set out from flats will become large flowering plants in about 60 days. Individual plants fill in about 2 square feet of ground space and grown to an average of three feet high, so give them ample room.

Marigolds are sun lovers. They thrive on heavy irrigation and should never be sprinkled. Pests will not kill them but a regular spray schedule is needed to keep them clean and healthy. A mulching of peat moss or steer manure is preferable to deep cultivating as the roots are easily loosened causing the plants to topple.

These dramatic giant marigolds are available in pure yellow shades, or pure orange or mixtures. Whatever combination is chosen, it will be a bright spot in the garden until heavy winter frosts take it down.

The information gained at this latter meeting will assist the troop members in earning their sewing badges.

BRIGHTENING CHROMIUM

To renew the luster of chromium plated parts without damage rub them with a moist piece of chamois, advises the National Automobile Club. Then polish them with a dry piece of the same material. Ordinarily, polishes are not necessary.

The California Department of Public Health prohibits the discharge of raw sewage on beaches. The law makes it mandatory that all sewage be treated. Westlake PTA To Hear Talk On Effects Of Radio And Television On Children

"Radio and Television—Its Effects on Children" will be discussed by radio producer Pede Worth at the June 4 meeting of the Westlake PTA.

The 120 kindergarten children of the school will be featured on the program presenting a rhythm band, under the direction of Miss Furch and Miss Pickrel. Following the meeting refreshments will be served, courtesy of the kindergarten mothers.

At the meeting, which will start at 7:45 p.m. at the school, all parents interested in working on committees during the next term are urged to fill in the form which will be available for the purpose.

At the executive board meeting of May 25 it was voted to cooperate with the San Francisco Golf course in making known to parents the hazards of children playing in the are adjoining the Wilshire avenue backyards and the club greens.

James Crafts, president of the club, is concerned over the possibility of a child being seriously hurt by a golf ball. There have been many near accidents and players have asked that the matter be brought to the attention of the parents. Crafts urges that older children be told not to use the golf course as a short cut to other destinations and that smaller children be kept from the boundaries.

Executive board mothers stated also that there have been at times undesirable characters loitering in this area known to the children as the woods. They also have noted large rats roaming the territory and rat poison is another danger.

The clove tree grows to a height of 30 or 40 feet but despite its size is a fragile plant and harvesting the unopened flower must be done very carefully.

Career Of Teacher Ends After 40 Years

Back in 1919 Louise Plumb vowed that she'd teach school only two more years—that was all.

Next month when Mrs. Plumb leaves Colma elementary school, she will have compiled nearly 40 years of teaching.

At the time she made up her mind to teach only two more years she had her sights set on a career of business, and planned to keep up the teaching until she and her husband got a little better organized.

But "things began to happen," as she points out, and months weaved into years, years into decades. Now that her career is ending, she looks back and confesses she enjoyed every minute of it. As she describes her retirement, "It's going to be hard to think of not teaching."

Mrs. Plumb, wife of Lloyd J. Plumb, retired, has taught in the Jefferson elementary district for nine years. Before that she served 25 consecutive years at Bayshore school.

But that isn't the whole story. Prior to teaching at Bayshore, she was at four schools in Shasta county.

She started in the teaching profession in 1909, after being graduated from what was then San Jose Normal school, now San Jose State college.

Mrs. Plumb says giving up teaching won't be easy, but she is looking forward to a "different sort of life."

She and her husband plan to move to San Jose where they will do a lot of "gardening and take in the sights."

The veteran teacher also plans to devote some of her spare time to helping others.

Mrs. Plumb says she subscribes to the philosophy that the first 25 years of life are devoted to growing up, the second 25 to raising a family, and the last 25 to service.

However, it appears Mrs. Plumb has already devoted a good segment of her life to service.

H. Z. Weibel, who as superintendent of the elementary district has close knowledge of Mrs. Plumb's abilities, testifies that "she has always appreciated the opportunity to nurture the talents and to stimulate the ambitions of children."

More Than 200 At 6th Junior Olympics

More than 200 boys and girls from the playgrounds of Daly City participated in the Sixth Annual Junior Olympics, sponsored by the Daly City-Colma Lions club, held Sunday at Jefferson union high school field.

The young athletes displayed their talents under the able direction of the staff of the recreation department; and 81 walked away with either medals or ribbons provided by the Lions club.

The members of the Lions club assisted the recreation department staff as judges and scorers of the many events. The large variety of events allowed all of the children in attendance to participate in some event suited to their age groups.

The afternoon displayed the talents of the future greats of Daly City in addition to the boundless energy of the city's youth.

The competition provided fun and interest for the youngsters who in turn showed that they could both win and lose in the spirit of fair, clean play, the recreation department said.

FIRE FIGHTERS' FACTS

By Mel Hanson
Fire Prevention Bureau

Thousands of fires every spring are the result of carelessness by campers, sportsmen and picnickers, according to the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

Of the 575 forest fires that break out every day, according to United States forest service figures, about nine out of ten are started by careless actions.

To hold down the large number of spring fires, the national board suggests:

1. Crush out your cigarete, cigar and pipe ashes.
2. Hold your match until it's cold and then break it in half.
3. Keep ashtrays in your car.
4. Ask about the law before burning grass, brush fence rows or trash.

Hunting season is just about here and with it will bring many fires. It is our thought, by giving the situation a little publicity, we may prevent at least one forest fire.

PARENT'S DUTY

More careful instructions from parents might eliminate many of the accidents that happen to children when left in the care of babysitters, according to the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

Parents too ofter rush out, barely telling the young babysitter where the baby is, the fire safety authorities point out, reminding parents that they ought to be sure babysitters know what to do in case of an emergency.

They suggested the parents allow a little time for the babysitter to get to know the child and gain her confidence. The baby will be much more friendly and likely to obey the sitter.

Unless sitters know where to reach parents and how to call the fire department they will be helpless in case of an emergency. Be sure to give your sitter all necessary instructions before leaving, the fire experts advise.

The National Board outlines those factors parents should check before entrusting their youngsters to the care of babysitters:

1. Give your sitter the telephone number of the fire department, your family doctor and a number where you can be reached. Tell her also what neighbor she can call on in any difficulty.
2. If there is no phone, show her how to notify the fire department in case of a fire.
3. Caution her not to allow the child to play with matches, electric cords, or other electric appliances; keep the child out of the kitchen, if possible.
4. If you request her to bathe the youngster, be certain she has had experience in doing so.
5. Leave a first aid kit with her; explain how to take care of simple burns, cuts, bruises.
6. Be sure she understands what to do in a fire emergency; she should first get the child out of the house; then call the fire department; then call you.

POSTED SPEED LIMITS

When driving into areas with which you are not familiar be on the lookout for posted speed limits and obey them, advises the National Automobile Club. City limits are posted plainly and by expecting posted speed limits and then obeying them motorists will prevent embarrassment and perhaps delay in a strange city.

Elevations in San Francisco range from six to 956 feet.

Library News

By Lorraine DeFanti

Two of the highlights from recent reading I have enjoyed are the the books "O Rugged Land of Gold" by Martha Martin, and the "Wonderful World of Books" edited by Alfred Stefferud.

O Rugged Land of Gold tells the true story of Martha and Don Martin, gold prospectors in Alaska. The story is set in a remote, heavily timbered and mountainous strip of land studded with reefs and rocky islands. Late one fall, as they were preparing to leave their isolated prospect for the winter, Don took the outboard to catch the mailboat and Martha went up the canyon trail for a final visit to their home. A sudden storm broke; Martha was caught in a landslide, flung into the canyon and badly injured. Her husband failed to return from the sea. To read this book is to know the desolate white world in which the author lived, the cabins that sheltered her, the wildlife who were her friends.

The reader experiences Martha's physical ordeals and the spiritual rewards of that winter. Here is a book for every woman who has ever wondered how she would react in an emergency; for every man who loves adventure; and for every person who is moved by a story of man against wilderness.

Book on Books

The Oxford University Press has the following to say regarding The Wonderful World of Books: "How can more people be made aware of the treasure awaiting them within the covers of books?

"One answer is itself a remarkable book, a book the whole book trade is talking about. This book is The Wonderful World of Books.

"This volume, designed to be a guide to the rewards of reading, tells how to win greater success and happiness with the help of books. Educators, publishers, authors and librarians explain how to read intelligently, how to find time for reading, how to improve your reading skill, how to find the books you want and how to read most effectively for pleasure or for profit. Here one finds a friendly and stimulating practical key to the knowledge, adventure and enjoyment found in the world of books."

Miscellaneous News Items

I took a pleasant business trip recently to the Sather Gate Book Shop in Berkeley, where for several hours I indulged in the luxury of browsing around "The wonderful world of books" housed in this delightful store. It was with great reluctance that I left the shop, but not until an order for one hundred books for the Daly City Library had been placed.

I attended an informative trustees meeting held at the San Francisco Public Library as guest of Daly City Library commission members Maude Hanselman and Marge Westgaard.

The principal speaker for the evening was Dr. Edward White, professor of librianship at the University of California in Berkeley. Dr. White spoke in great detail on the subject of library standards. He emphasized the important relationship between standards and the purpose for which a standard is established. He summed up his interesting discourse by stating that he would like to see a modern management approach to library standards.

One of the 1953 Pulitzer Prizes in the field of letters was awarded to Ernest Hemingway for his novel "The Old Man and the Sea." This book, which ranked as seventh best seller of 1952, tells the story of a Cuban fisherman's adventure with a giant marlin which he catches only to lose his prize to the sharks.

TROUT PROSPECTS

Trout fishing should be fair to good in El Dorado county when the season opens there on May 30, predicts the National Automobile Club. Trout are now rising to flies.

Of a loved one laid to rest.
In memory's frame I shall keep it,

Is $600,000 Plus Necessary to Control This Condition?

● Raw sewage should be controlled. However, the proposed sewage plant location near the San Francisco county line would not best serve the North San Mateo County Sanitation district. Wouldn't a location in Colma (near city line), next to Woodlawn cemetery, where at present sewage booster pumps are located, be better?

● The city formerly refused to buy the Thornton beach area for $1 a year. Now the district wants to correct conditions there for $600,000 plus.

Woodrow Wilson PTA Holds Meeting

The Woodrow Wilson PTA held their regular monthly meeting May 19, in Room 10 of the Woodrow Wilson school. The meeting was called to order by the new president, Mrs. O. Simonsen. During the business meeting Mrs. Simonsen gave a report on the state convention she attended in Long Beach. The unit expressed its gratitude to the following who worked at the Daly City May Festival: Mesdames Tydingco, Ashton, Plansky, Farina, Williams, Venturini and Miille.

Mrs. Robert's third graders entertained the membership with several folk dance numbers. The speaker was Miss Belli, speech coordinator for the Jefferson elementary district. Highlights of her talk were on the methods of correcting speech deformities. She demonstrated by tape recorder the work of some of the students she had had in her classes this year and the way they are taught.

Mrs. Simonsen closed the meeting with good wishes for all for the summer vacation.

Refreshments were served by the kindergarten room mothers, Mesdames Venturini, Melton, Farina and Wats, with the hospitality chairman, Mrs. Verhagen.

Thursday, May 21, the following ladies attended the 17th district CCPT workshop in Burlingame: Mesdames Plansky, Melton, Tydingco, Verhagen, Lobel, Miille and Farina, with the president, Mrs. Simonsen.

Elementary Kids Put On Physical Education Demonstration

GIVING PARENTS an idea of activities and purposes of physical education in the elementary schools was the purpose of the demonstrations held at district schools this week. Here Miss Doris Dietterle's third graders at Jefferson elementary do the Shoemaker's dance. Dennis Huajardo, coordinator of physical education for the district, said purpose of the program is to show parents what physical education is meant to develop. Games such as the Shoemaker's dance are held for children up to the third grade level. Fourth to sixth graders participate in "lead-up" games designed to prepare them for regular athletic contests, while seventh and eighth graders engage in regular competition, such as softball.

YOUR NEIGHBORS AND MINE

By Betty Brush

Hello Neighbors:

Here it is the last week of May and before we know it school will be out. According to the children, they need a rest from school—according to the teachers, they need a rest from teaching, and as all parents know—vacation is supposed to be a time of rest and fun.

By the time September rolls around we'll see who really needs the rest. There will be lots of activities for the children this summer, including swimming instruction at the high school. This is a marvelous thing, as all children not only should know how to swim but they have so much fun when they know how.

Just to be different this week's let's start the column out with a gripe. The No. 4 bus leaves at 8:30 a.m. for Garden Village school. Previously in this column a driver was commended for her courtesy. This column being impartial, this driver is being asked, "Why do you take the children blocks past their school and have to walk back just because they don't get off the bus fast enough?" According to the way it was reported to me, several of them were in the back and didn't push and shove, and in order to teach them to hurry up the driver left four of them on the bus and drove off for several blocks before letting them off. This is courtesy? This is what we trust our children to?

JUHS trio of students won again on the TV Quiz held by Del Courtney. This week they beat Oakland high and the high scorer was a gal named ROBERTA, ably assisted by two nice looking young men named WALLY and DUANE. They will be back again at the same time again next week and good luck is wished them from all the neighbors.

JUHS PTA members are leaving Thursday, June 4, on a chartered bus for Bethel Island. They will spend the day visiting at the new home of MRS. IDA HANLEY who for many years was a resident of "our town" and an active member in many of it's organizations. Hello, Ida, from "your neighbors and mine."

News and Views

Sympathies of your neighbors and mine are extended this week to MRS. ISABELLE LIBERTI of Winchester street on the death of her father. Mr. McGortin passed away on Tuesday of last week with a heart attack.

BOBBY McCLOED of Miriam street celebrated his birthday last week. Bobby, at the advanced age of seven years, was host to many of his classmates at a party held at the home of his mother. The usual ice cream and birthday cake was enjoyed by all as only children seem able to enjoy it.

Among those attending the dinner held in honor of the Grand Arch Druidess of the state of California at Milani's Restaurant in Oakland last week was MRS. GRACE HILL. This dinner was attended by many of the Grand Officers from all over the state and as Grace is the grand treasurer, Hillcrest Circle was ably represented.

MR. WILLIAM J. SWEENEY, our erstwhile judge and our Studebaker dealer, and MR. LYAL INGERSOLL were responsible for 18 Boy Scouts attending the circus this year. The same group will attend a picnic at Moss Beach this coming Sunday. It is a grand thing, neighbors, when the busy men of the town go "all out" for your children and mine Hats off to both of these men.

MR. and MRS. SHERMAN SABLE, long time residents of Daly City, are home to all their friends in their new home on Knowles avenue. Sherman will be remembered by all the old timers as he and his sister Henrietta grew up in Daly City and went to schools with many of the younger married set, while Mrs. Sable is from San Francisco and would like to meet some new friends.

MR. and MRS. WILLIAM GUILIANA and MR. and Mrs. FRANK GUILIANA went to the Normandie Restaurant Saturday evening of last week. This was in celebration of the 13th wedding anniversary of MR. and MRS. Wm. GUILIANA. Congratulations from all the neighbors are extended to Theresa and Bill.

MRS. MADELINE FELLOWS of Los Banos avenue was paid a surprise visit on Sunday of last week by her son BUD and his family. They came up from Hollister to spend the day and while here took in the Hobby Show which they enjoyed very much.

Servicemen

Heard this week from TECH. SGT. DALE PAISLEY who is stationed at Scott Field Air Base, Illinois. He has just finished all the courses necessary to becoming an instructor in Radar. From there Dale will go to New Jersey for another course lasting six weeks before he and his wife and children will be able to come home on a furlough. Grandma GRACIE HILL is anxiously awaiting their home-coming. Patience, grandma, they'll get here in time.

AIRMAN CHARLES H. JOHNSON of Los Banos avenue was one of the boys who arrived home on the Aircraft Carrier Oriskany when she arrived last week. The Oriskany has been operating in Korean waters for the past eight months where she launched daily air strikes against the communists. Her missions included bombardment of enemy supply routes, storage areas and manufacturing centers, support of ground troops and strafing of enemy troops along front lines. The ship is expected to remain in the Bay Area until September.

Heard from one of the boys this week, neighbors. Seems like a little thing called blood came in handy for him awhile back. He would like to thank all of the neighbors who have given so generously and to ask the rest of us to keep on giving. As an average healthy person, you have 12 to 13 pints of blood. Your blood is constantly being replenished. The removal of a pint calls for no special effort on the body's part. Donating a pint of blood is comparable to an afternoon's exercise. When you donate a pint of blood, the only feeling is one of satisfaction in helping someone to live. A few minutes of your time may mean a lifetime to someone else. How about it, neighbors?

PVT. PAUL A. MITCHELL was heard from this week. He is fine and all he requests from home is MAIL and Spam. Any of his friends may get in touch with him by writing: Pvt. Paul A. Mitchell, U. S. 56-201-274, Heavy Motor Co., 17th Inf. Reg., APO 7, c/o Postmaster, San Francisco, Calif. How about that letter that you were going to write or that package that you meant to send? What a simple request for happiness, neighbors, MAIL and Spam.

Items of Interest

MRS. J. COOK was hostess at a bridal shower held last week for JO LAMENDOLA of our town. Among those ladies present were MISSES LESLEY LINHARES, SHIRLEY SCOTT, SUSAN SIMS, and MESDAMES DOROTHY STEWART, MILDRED SIMS, MILDRED BARONI, MARION BALESTRERI, ISABELLE LIBERTI, HAZEL SULLIVAN, MARY KING and MARY McKAY, mother of the prospective bride. There were many more friends who attended this event, but this is the Daly City gang whom we all know. Many beautiful gifts were received by Jo, who is wished so much happiness by all.

SJS Educator To Talk At GOP Meet

Dr. Dwight Bentel, popular lecturer and head of the department of journalism of San Jose State college, will speak at the June 4 dinner meeting of the San Mateo County Republican Assembly, according to Dan R. Love, Jr., of Burlingame, president.

"Freedom of the Press" will be Dr. Bentel's topic. He is well known on the Pacific coast for his analysis of newspaper background and problems that are of widespread interest to readers.

The dinner event will be open to all who are interested as well as to assembly members, Love emphasizes.

Reservations may be made through June 1 by telephoning Love at DI. 3-4831; L. Herbert Harris at DI. 3-3226; or William Donan at EM. 6-5981.

ABOUT PUNCTURES

It comes as news to many owners that punctures and cuts in the tread of tires owing to striking sharp stones and the like objects are more likely to occur when the tire is wet, points out the National Automobile Club.

Water hyacinth is well known throughout the South for its massive floats of purple, turquoise and sapphire blue blossoms which cover numerous acres.

On Tuesday, May 19, a wedding trip was taken to Reno. MISS GRACE DOMENICI accompanied by her parents, MR. and MRS. JAMES KELL, and the mother of the groom, exchanged her name for that of MR. JACK WINTER of San Francisco. The bride wore a beige suit with a matching stole. Best man duties were performed by Mr. JAMES KELL, while Matron of Honor was the mother of the groom. After a short honeymoon the young couple will be home to all their many friends at an apartment in San Francisco. Congratulations to two swell kids.

LADIES AUXILIARY CO. No. 1, FIRE DEPT., went to Millbrae to the home of MRS. ESTHER MERRITT last week. After admiring the new home of Mrs. Merritt and having a good time the ladies did remember that the purpose of the visit was their regular meeting which was held.

Illness of some sort we always seem to have with us. MADAME LOMBARD, so well known to so many, has been ill for the past week. All her neighbors and many friends will be glad to hear that she is now feeling much better.

MRS. FLORINE JESPERSEN, who seems to have had more than her share lately, is entering St. Francis hospital this week for an operation. As it is one of quite a serious nature, all the best wishes of "your neighbors and mine" go with her. Here's hoping to see you around with us soon, Florine.

MRS. DOROTHY STONE, one of the ladies on the staff of the Toyland Nursery school, has also been ill the past week. We are sure all the children miss her and will be most glad when she is able to return to them.

MRS. GRACE HILL, another of the neighbors, has been ill and would like to be up and around again soon. Knowing Grace, we all know that it really takes something before she gives in. Get better soon, Grace, we all miss you.

A visit was paid to the old home town last week by MRS. LILLIAN NEGHERBON. She is an old-time resident who, though having deserted us for Redwood City, comes back as often as possible. Her visit was most enjoyed and we hope she gets here again soon.

A jewelry party was held at the home of MRS. LORRAINE FAZENDEN last week. The hostess at this event was MRS. NATHALIE MALLOY of Concord. As is usual at these parties, a good time was had by all the ladies who attended, and they were much too numerous to have all the names mentioned. In other words, it was a BIG crowd and a big time.

Well, neighbors, another column has reached the end of limited space. Keep the news coming as I really do enjoy talking to each and every one of you. Remember my phone number: PL. 5-6482. 'Bye now.
